

Legislation Counsel

The Joint Committee on Taxation has openings for experienced Federal tax attorneys. Responsibilities include providing technical and policy advice to Members of Congress and Congressional committees and assisting in the development and drafting of Federal tax legislation.

Qualifications include four or more years of Federal tax experience in either a private law practice or Federal tax administration position. In addition to individuals with general Federal tax experience, the Joint Committee on Taxation is particularly interested in candidates with extensive experience in tax-exempt bonds and estate and gift taxation. Position requires extensive writing. Ideal candidate will have excellent writing, communication, analytic, and interpersonal skills. Must be able to work under tight deadlines and with minimal supervision.

Salary range: $75,000-$130,000, depending upon experience.

How to apply: Applicants should either fax a resume to 202-225-0832 (attention: Carolyn Smith) or send a resume by electronic mail to Carolyn.Smith@mail.house.gov.

The Joint Committee is an equal opportunity employer in accordance with the requirements of the U.S. Congress and applicable Federal law. All personnel actions taken by the Joint Committee are made free from discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex (including marital or parental status), age, sexual orientation, or disability.

Macroeconomist

The Joint Committee on Taxation is seeking an experienced macroeconomist to assist in the development and implementation of macroeconomic analysis of major tax legislation.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. or equivalent. Special consideration will be given to candidates who have built and used dynamic general equilibrium models. Excellent quantitative and analytic skills, writing ability, and interpersonal skills required. The ability to communicate technical material in a clear manner to noneconomists is a plus. Candidates must be able to work efficiently under tight deadlines and with minimal supervision.

Salary range: Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience.

How to apply: Applicants should either fax a resume to 202-225-0833 (attention: Bernard A. Schmitt) or send a resume by electronic mail to Bernard.Schmitt@mail.house.gov.

The Joint Committee is an equal opportunity employer in accordance with the requirements of the U.S. Congress and applicable Federal law. All personnel actions taken by the Joint Committee are made free from discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex (including marital or parental status), age, sexual orientation, or disability.

Economist -- Revenue Estimating

The Joint Committee on Taxation is seeking an economist to assist in formulating estimates of the Federal budget impact of proposed Federal tax legislation and analyzing the possible economic and administrative implications of proposed changes in the Federal tax laws.

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D. (or equivalent) with training in public finance and taxation. Excellent quantitative and analytic skills, writing ability, and interpersonal skills required. The ability to communicate technical material in a clear manner to noneconomists is a plus. Candidates must be able to work efficiently under tight deadlines and with minimal supervision.

Salary range: Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience.

How to apply: Applicants should either fax a resume to 202-225-0833 (attention: Bernard A. Schmitt) or send a resume by electronic mail to Bernard.Schmitt@mail.house.gov.

The Joint Committee is an equal opportunity employer in accordance with the requirements of the U.S. Congress and applicable Federal law. All personnel actions taken by the Joint Committee are made free from discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex (including marital or parental status), age, sexual orientation, or disability.